

Environmental Education Internships

Are you looking for experience in outdoor/environmental education? Wilton Wildlife Preserve & Park is offering seasonal internship credit opportunities for college students.

Interns help develop and present programs in classrooms and on the trails. Interns present environmental education programs for the public or school settings with additional opportunities to participate in conservation projects relating to various species of the Saratoga Sandplains.

This internship is applicable to any major, but more closely related to environmental science, biology, or any relating majors

Please submit a resume to Environmental Education Coordinator,
Allyson Paradis at allyson@wiltonpreserve.org

Conserving ecological systems and natural settings, while providing opportunities for environmental education and outdoor recreation.
80 Scout Road, Wilton, NY 12831 ● (518) 450-0321 ● info@wiltonpreserve.org